The third studio album from Magenta was called 'Home', and was initially released as a Special Edition double pack. The double pack is no longer available, but the two individual single CD's are available separately. 'New York Suite' is the second part of the 'Home' Special Edition, part of the 'Home' concept and concentrates on one part of the story. The music on 'New York Suite' is far more Prog in nature than the tracks on 'Home', with each track lasting an average of 10 minutes, and includes some superb musicianship.
